

Business Leaders Launch 'Raise Up Trump' PAC

The Raise Up for Trump Political Action Committee (Raise Up PAC) organizers have are pledging to give all employees a pay raise if President Trump is reelected.

WASHINGTON, DC, UNITED STATES, October 13, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ --

A coalition of business leaders organized by Bloomington, CA based RPP Products CEO, Eric Zwigart are pledging to give all employees a pay raise upon the reelection of President Trump. The Raise Up for Trump Political Action Committee (Raise Up PAC) is recruiting more business leaders to join them in making commitments to pass benefits from a growing economy, and pro-business policies to workers.

Re-electing President Trump is THE BEST BET for our business, for our employees, and for America.

If President Trump is re-elected, we will “Raise Up for Trump”- and every employee from our business will receive a pay raise!”

Eric Zwigart

“I am not a politician, and I never thought I would be in a place to ever start a political action committee, but I am very concerned about the proposals being currently floated by Joe Biden and the impact they would have on my employees, our company, and our national economy in general,” explained Zwigart.

“My commitment to my team is simple: If our current President, Donald Trump is reelected we will give everyone in the company a pay raise in anticipation of policies that will continue the historic economic growth we had prior to the COVID-19 pandemic hitting our shores. I am recruiting other businesses to join me in making this pledge.”

In a statement to recruit additional business leaders to join the pledge Zwigart further stated:

“To continue the positive trajectory of our country, we must reelect President Donald Trump. As members of the business community, we are pledging today that in addition to supporting the President, we are also supporting our employees – by committing to across the board pay raises when President Trump is again sworn in on Inauguration Day.

A Biden-Harris Administration poses significant risks to businesses, employees, and the overall economy. The costs of running a business in these uncertain times, combined with the political left's pursuit of job killing regulations and extreme taxation will crush the bottom line and the American spirit if Democrats are successful.

The radical left is desperate to gain power back and using every trick in the book so that they can further their goals and ideology: pit workers against businesses, pack the Supreme Court with Leftist Judges who can legislate from the bench, raise taxes even higher to further buy votes with "favors and entitlements." This is bad for our businesses, our workers, our economy, and our great country.

Alternatively, President Trump's Administration rescued a stagnant economy, created more jobs than ever before, lowered taxes, and created real opportunities for Americans to pursue their dreams by place us on the right path. The recovery is already underway. To stop it now would be both foolish and dangerous.

The positive trajectory of our country must continue. We must reelect President Donald Trump. By committing to across the board pay raises for our employees, it shows we are confident that under his leadership, we can grow our businesses, contribute more to the economy, give back to our communities, and directly reward our employees."

The pledge is being circulated to business leaders throughout the United States. It states in part:

As business owners, we work hard to succeed – and a large part of our success is because our employees work hard too.

We care about our employees and owe it to them to reward their dedication.

Re-electing President Trump is THE BEST BET for our business, for our employees, and for America.

We know America's economy will recover, and flourish, under President Trump's continued leadership.

Under President Trump, we will see continued renewal of the business, tax, and regulatory environment – and the return of law and order – that we all need to prosper – as businesses and communities.

That success should be shared.

We pledge today: if President Trump is re-elected, we will “Raise Up for Trump”- and every employee from our business will receive a pay raise!

“Supporting President Trump is synonymous with supporting our businesses and our employees.” Zwigart continued. “While most employees will be getting a raise if President Trump is reelected anyway, making the pledge shows we are serious and committed.

“I challenge all business owners to re-invest in your employees by supporting the re-election of President Donald Trump, much the same as many larger companies rewarded their employees with the benefits that the Trump tax plan gave them by bringing their production home, and bringing corporate taxes more in line with other developed “producing” countries.”
