SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, October 13, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kris Hochart, founder of Red Wagon Properties, doesn't love celebrating his birthday with birthday parties or gifts, but he does love giving back. Knowing that, in honor of his birthday this year, the staff at Red Wagon teamed up with some of Kris's friends and gave back—in a big way.

Red Wagon Properties is no stranger to giving back. In fact, giving back is something the company's founder, Kris Hochart, is passionate about. This year, just before Kris' birthday, Hurricane Laura slammed into Louisiana. Knowing Kris's heart to give back, the team at Red Wagon Properties joined forces with some of Kris's friends to benefit the victims of Hurricane Laura, in honor of Kris's birthday.

“Kris does not like to receive presents or have parties for his birthday, so we decided we would do what he loves best. And that is giving back. So along with some of his friends, we came together and donated items to the victims of Hurricane Laura in Louisiana,” said Bobbye Joe McMillan, Properties Operations Manager for Red Wagon Properties.

The group was able to donate canned goods, water, baby items, cleaning supplies, and building supplies. A monetary donation of $2,000 was also made. All items and donations went to benefit the victims of Hurricane Laura in Louisiana. The friends and coworkers additionally donated both to the Hurricane Relief Fund and Samaritan's Purse.

At the end of August, Hurricane Laura swept the Louisiana Gulf Coast. The category 4 storm resulted in the evacuation of hundreds of thousands of residents, and at least 28 deaths in the state. In the wake of all that devastation, there were, and are, countless needs to be met. It is the heart of Red Wagon Properties to give back, and this was an opportunity not to be passed up.

McMillan adds that she'd like to "give thanks to the Red Wagon staff, along with friends and clients Josh Sigman, Mike Vick, and Tadd Chapman." Together, this dream team not only provided assistance and relief to those suffering loss due to Hurricane Laura, but they gave founder Kris Hochart a lasting gift, sure to be remembered for birthdays to come.
