

HERB-N-WELLNESS LAUNCHES TELENATURALHEALTH.COM FOR IMMUNE PRIMARY CARE

Cost effective and convenient natural telehealth services for immune primary care . One-time Consutations from $49 as well as Natural Medicine Memberships.

FORNEY, TX, UNITED STATES, October 14, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- From the expansion of tele-health, to a desire for for more natural medical alternatives , the pandemic has changed the way we view healthcare. In response to this shifting landscapes Herb-n-wellness.com was born.With a focus on immune primary care services, the online platform represents a natural health alternative to the increasing presence of conventional tele-health sites. Founded by Dr. Patricia W. McCartney, Herb-n-Wellness offers natural health services that are both convenient and cost effective at a time when Americans are looking for remote care options. An awareness of need for natural immune tele-care, arose out of life altering injuries McCartney received during her college years, which left her with a compromised immune system, However, it was after suffering an autoimmune disorder, following a car wreck, that propelled McCartney , a Texas lawyer, to pursue a Doctor of

Recent COVID-19 lockdowns only magnified the existing vacuum in the tele-health services currently being offered

“For people who are unwilling or unable to visit natural health physicians in person, the recent shelter in place guidelines have proven especially difficult. Many are also resistant to traditional medications that are manufactured overseas, and find the prospect of botanical medicine and natural therapies more appealing. That’s where TeleNaturalHealth.Com stands out. As part of its holistic approach, Herb-N-Wellness also features a natural health Apothecary, which carries organic herbs, essential oils and products, which are custom blended and mailed to clients as part of their wellness protocol.

On Demand Immune Primary Care

Although Herb-n-Wellness addresses many health issues, the focus is on positive immune health and mental wellness. Unlike western medicine, where proactive immune care falls outside the traditional services offered, as a natural tele-health is able to focus on immune support and create personalized plans that are more preventative in nature. In this Covid-1
