Los Angeles, October 16, 2020 –

MjInvest.com, a cannabis investor network powered by MjLink.com, Inc., announced today their new MjInvest mobile app is now available for download on iOS and Android devices.

The MjInvest platform makes it simple for cannabis Investors and C-suite executives to connect anytime, from anywhere.”

Todd Markey

MjLink.com, Inc., the cannabis technology company that launched the MjMicro Conference and MjInvest cannabis investor network in mid-2019, has extended their technology footprint in the global cannabis industry by launching their new MjInvest mobile app on iOS and Android devices. This latest addition to the MjLink technology suite once again continues to illustrate the company's aggressive initiative to build the most advanced social networking platform in the cannabis industry, worldwide.

“The MjInvest platform makes it simple for cannabis Investors and C-suite executives to connect anytime, from anywhere.” said Todd Markey, President of MjLink.com, Inc. “We’ve worked hard at making sure the connections made between institutional investors and C-suite executives in the cannabis industry are meaningful and productive during our MjMicro investor conferences, and now those connections can be cultivated 365 days a year through our new MjInvest mobile app.”

The new MjInvest mobile app makes it even easier for investors, financial analysts and C-suite executives to stay connected with one another, year-round. In addition to the unparalleled access cannabis executives have to investors and analysts, they also now have the ability to provide video and audio investor updates using the market using financial vlogs and executive interviews. Cannabis executives, investors and analysts can use the MjInvest app for 1-on-1 and group investor messaging, making it the easiest to use communication and IR platform to stay connected with investors, 24/7.
