Few debut singles have been met with such a warm reception.

When 'Your Mama Don't Dance' was originally released as a single, it was Loggins & Messina's biggest hit as well as their only Gold single. Elvis Presley sang a few lines from the song as part of a medley in 1974 for his album 'Recorded Live On Stage In Memphis.'

Not since Poison covered the tune in 1989 (#10 in the U.S.) has a major recording artist, like Huey Lewis, covered this song.

Earlier this year, Huey Lewis and the News, released 'Weather,' the band's tenth studio album, released by New Hulex under license to BMG Rights Management, available on Apple iTunes, Spotify, Google Play, and Amazon <https://www.amazon.com/Weather-Huey-Lewis-News/dp/B07ZDKLJFN>.

With familiar grooves reminiscent of the band's platinum records (Sports, Fore!, and Small World), 'Weather' includes songs that were recorded before Huey's 2018 hearing loss from Ménière's disease.

"This one [Your Mama] was in the vault for awhile," stated Jeff Tamelier, Executive Producer & former guitarist for Tower of Power. "Chuck [Bari] Hansen had started a new tech company so he had to put recording on hold. When COVID-19 hit in March he finally stayed home long enough to lay down bari sax solos."

"Everyone had a blast recording & mixing this tune," stated Tamelier. "And, Huey Lewis never sounded better!"

Chuck Bari & The Shackers, Featuring Huey Lewis, performing 'Your Mama Don't Dance' includes:

- Huey Lewis – vocals & harmonica
- Chuck Hansen – baritone, bass, & contrabass saxophones
- Jeff Tamelier - guitar & background vocals
- Mike Finnigan – piano
- Bobby Vega – bass
- Prairie Prince – drums & percussion
- Boys Night Out – background vocals

Chuck Bari & The Shackers, featuring Huey Lewis, performing 'Your Mama Don't Dance,' was released by EMPIRE Distribution, Records and Publishing Inc. & music label Doc Hansen Digital Publishing LLC.

"I want to thank Huey Lewis, Jeff Tamelier, Peter De Leon, Nina Bombardier, EMPIRE, and an all-star line-up of musicians (a.k.a. The Shackers) that worked on this tune," stated Chuck [Bari] Hansen, playing baritone, bass, and his custom-made Benedikt Eppelsheim contrabass saxophone.

"I first heard 'Your Mama Don't Dance' when I was 16-years old and loved Jon Clarke's bari solo. Clarke played on the classic Don Ellis album 'Live Fillmore' (1970) and was featured on the Hank Levy chart, 'Rock Odyssey.' After touring with the Don Ellis Orchestra, he became an original member of Loggins & Messina, when he played on Your Mama Don't Dance," stated Hansen.

Jon Clarke spent 17 years as a member of the Academy Awards orchestra and performed on hundreds of television and motion picture soundtracks, including the HBO series "Six Feet Under," "My Big Fat Greek Wedding," "Fried Green Tomatoes," "Scent of a Woman," "The Green Mile" and "The Road to Perdition," before passing away at the age of 54 at his home in Kauai, Hawaii. This recording is in memory of Jon Clarke.

A chance meeting between Huey Lewis & Chuck Hansen happened after one of Huey's Broadway performances of the musical 'Chicago' where he played the role of Billy Flynn (Richard Gere role). Brokered by mutual friend, Jeff Tamelier, the meeting resulted in a 2006 performance where Chuck was added to the horn section on a Lake Tahoe gig with Huey Lewis & the News.

While Johnnie Bamont is Huey's long-time bari sax player in Huey Lewis and the News, Chuck's string of appearances with Huey in the AT&T Pro Am Band and events at Clint Eastwood's Tehama Golf Club led to recording 'Your Mama Don't Dance' for Huey's long-time charity, Lifehouse Agency.

Working with Nancy Dow Moody, CEO of Lifehouse, Huey has supported Lifehouse in a number of ways, notably, as the organization's Honorary Chair of the Annual Great Chefs and Wineries Gala event.
