Through this acquisition, Federal and commercial clients gain broad, complementary geospatial capabilities of a firm with an established and diverse client base, and proven data collection, processing, and analysis operations. "Geospatial solutions that provide actionable information is a driving force in the market," Continental Mapping's CEO, Dave Hart said. "TSG has built a framework of services and solutions that do just that. Through this acquisition we can apply our capabilities and tradecraft with theirs to bring that actionable intelligence to our clients."

By joining Continental Mapping, our offerings will be augmented and leveraged to better serve existing and new clients across markets."
