About Artsicle:

The owner and curator of ARTSICLE, Nancy Pedulla, has been collecting children's books and vintage ephemera for over 30 years. “As a third-generation antique and vintage dealer, I've always been drawn to amazing illustrations and captivating graphics from every era, but I was frustrated that there were no outlets for other people to easily appreciate these magical images. With that goal in mind, I started ARTSICLE to share with others how special and timeless these images are.”
