Participating nonprofit partners in Create the Change ® Week include St. Vincent Meals on Wheels, Pasadena Humane, and Ronald McDonald House Boston. All sessions are free and are open to children and teenagers across the United States, with opportunities to tailor projects to their local community. ABOUT PROJECT GIVING KIDS

Project Giving Kids (PGK) facilitates pathways for young volunteers to build a more compassionate world by making it easier for kids, teens, and families to engage in volunteer service. Through its easy-to-navigate website, a mobile app for teens, toolkits and educational resources, and the annual Create the Change® event, PGK helps youth volunteers understand the importance of service and connect directly with vetted nonprofit partners.

"I feel so lucky to have found Project Giving Kids. I am so impressed with the number and variety of organizations that they partner with...I especially feel great to be doing this during COVID since we can't actually go places to volunteer. It feels good to be making a difference from home. Thank you for giving us the opportunity!" - Meg K., PGK Parent

While the pandemic has changed a lot of things in 2020, it has not changed PGK's commitment to providing youth with opportunities to make a difference when communities are struggling more than ever.
