

Relax In Comfort tasked by Space Program for amazing X-Chairs for Florida Launch Center

ORLANDO, FL, UNITED STATES, October 28, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Relax In Comfort is proud to be part of the latest ergonomic initiative for the Florida based space program mission for better ergonomic seating and comfort for the launch team's scientists and engineer's during their continuous work hours throughout a space mission. Relax in Comfort, founded in 1967, has been serving the wellness needs of Floridian's for over 53 years. Therefore, it came as no surprise when the leading space program tasked Relax In Comfort to fulfill their order for the amazing X-Chair for their launch team in Florida's Space Coast.

The United States of America is well known to the entire world for its leading cutting-edge plans for space travel, and to include the new Space Force, however very few have discovered they are equally innovative, and imaginative private companies when it comes to the ergonomic seating solutions to maximize productivity and help reduce stress and discomfort for the mission control team at the Space Coast.

Headquartered just 40 miles away in Winter Park, FL, Relax in Comfort was approached by the leading space program operator as a natural partner to fulfill their order for a plethora of X-Chairs to include set up & placement for each control center person.
