What's the Secret?

Built with Quilo's proprietary invention - Certified with a U.S. Innovation Patent, Quilo invented the world's first Interchangeable Filter Cartridges for Air Purification, Cooling and Humidification. Integrated with sensors that automatically activates each appliance when a cartridge is inserted, Quilo's Smart Auto-Mode automatically detects ambient air quality, temperature and humidity conditions to adjust internal fan speed and water pump settings for a truly automated air comfort experience.

"Air is constantly changing with each season from spring to summer to fall to winter," explained Naresh Kumra, Quilo CEO. "It took us 3 years of engineering, but we finally achieved the high performance we wanted in a truly effective all-season appliance. The Aviance will help families deal with the inconveniences and high costs of buying multiple appliances every season".

Past KickStarter Success and Global Innovation Award

Quilo started its product launch journey with their first Kickstarter campaign 3 years ago. The Quilo 3-in-1 was fully funded in June 2017 and was also nominated as a finalist for the International Housewares Association Global Innovation Award.

Quilo Aviance™ Launches on KickStarter in October 2020

The Quilo team has extensively tested multiple versions of prototypes and is finally ready for production. It is pre-launching on Kickstarter to help fund the first production run.
