

“The Liquidator”, Jeff Schwarz Buys Rare Collection of Aboriginal Memorabilia from Movie Set to be Auctioned Live Online

First Nations Memorabilia collectors can own a piece of history from the late 1600-1700s when English and French colonists arrived in the New World

MONTREAL, QUEBEC, CANADA, November 1, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The show was themed in the late 1600-1700s featuring colonialist wardrobe, furs, furniture, pottery, tools, weapons, and many other amazing period pieces that are being auctioned off online.

Authentic Handcrafted Canoe

“When I came across this rare movie-set deal, I bought the first ticket to Quebec City from Vancouver and bought the entire movie-set,” says Jeff The Liquidator, who’s also the President and CEO at Direct Liquidation.

After a very successful first auction this year in October, Jeff Schwarz, star of the reality show “The Liquidator”, in partnership with Continental Auctioneers, opens up more collectible items in this live online auction November 4th & 5th, 2020.

Handcrafted from Master Aboriginal artists, available are 2 authentic canoes. "It's a collectors dream," says Jeff The Liquidator, "We are honored to partner with Continental Auctioneers to make these rare items available to the public for the second time in the form of an auction."

These rare movie-set assets are housed in Quebec City, in a 40,000 square feet warehouse. "If you haven't participated in an online auction before", continues Jeff, "It's a ton of fun and we have amateurs to serious movie prop buyers online all at the same time from all over North America and the world! Real bargains can be had."

The online auction is accepting pre-bids now but officially starts November 4th at 9 am EST sharp. Interested participants need to register in advance at <https://continentalauctioneers.hibid.com/catalog/243117/>

The online auction is going to span three sales starting with the first on November 4th & 5th, 2020. Participate in this live online auction here <https://encanteurscontinental.com/en/objets-du-plateau-de-television/>
