

PROSH MARKETING & STARTUPFUEL LAUNCH A CONTEST TO HELP START-UPS GROW

Contest winners to receive more than $2,000 USD in Marketing Services to kick start their Marketing in today's arduous climate.

TORONTO, CANADA, November 1, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, Prosh Marketing, a Marketing company dedicated to helping start-ups grow through measured marketing strategies and proven go to market processes, announced that it is holding a contest to help start-ups on the StartupFuel platform to launch and expand their Marketing programs.

During these trying times, we've seen many start-ups struggle to obtain financing and as a result, be limited in their ability to grow through Marketing. This contest was developed to give these companies access to Marketing leadership and tools that can help them better position themselves, learn to leverage and grow using some of the most cost effective marketing channels, and promote themselves in today's market.

US and Canadian based start-ups in any industry can enter the contest for a chance to win a prize pack that includes services worth over $2,000 USD. This prize pack includes a review of the company's Marketing, PR and content strategies performed by industry leaders at Prosh Marketing, as well as a SEO audit and consultation and a Founder video that can be used for their Marketing purposes, from Prosh Marketing's partners.

The contest opens today and runs until November 31st, 2020 at midnight. Interested start-ups
