

BDO renews 3-year license agreement with ayfie

ayfie confirms today that the auditing and advisory company BDO will continue collaboration and extend their license agreement for three more years.

OSLO, NORWAY, November 10, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Norwegian technology company ayfie is an international provider of search and text analytics solutions for large amounts of data. Its unique linguistic-based framework analyzes words and phrases based on their context which allows for fast and easy insights into unstructured data.

ayfie's knowledge discovery solution for BDO combines artificial intelligence frameworks with natural language processing. It provides an efficient toolset to access and assess internal information faster - even if it is split across multiple data silos. The agreement is important for BDO as it helps them gain control of large amounts of data in the company.

"We have had a very good collaboration with ayfie, which has helped us make data available for, among other things, postings and reuse. Together we are working to find new areas to utilize the technology in BDO. We look forward to continuing to work with ayfie to meet the demands and needs of the future", says Jørgen Brodtkorb, IT Director at BDO.

"Leveraging our enhanced linguistic framework on BDO's distributed knowledge base shows the full potential of our platform when it comes to discovering insights within huge amounts of unstructured data. We are proud that BDO chose us again to power their internal knowledge discovery processes." – Johannes Stiehler, CEO, ayfie Group AS.
