At Waterfall Resort Alaska, expert guides lead guests on daily fishing expeditions for king salmon (Chinook), silver salmon (coho), Pacific halibut, lingcod, rockfish, and more. Guests enjoy comfortable accommodations, 3 delicious meals, only 4 guests to a boat with an expert guide, professional gear, heated cabin, air suspension seats, private head, plus overalls, jackets and boots are provided. Guests' daily catch is cleaned, cut, fast-frozen, boxed and delivered to Alaska airlines for the guests' departures

Guests may choose to enter the King of King Salmon Tournament for daily awards and season-end cash and merchandise awards. The biggest King of the Day of the entire season lands the angler the "King of Kings" title and the $10,000 cash prize. In addition, all daily winners qualify for the end-of-season Grand Prize drawing which, in 2020, was $10,000. Silver Salmon of the Month win $2500, and Weekly winners each win a return trip to the resort. The 2020 season was successful and Covid-safe!

The legend of Waterfall Resort Alaska started more than a century ago, when commercial fishing pioneers founded Waterfall Cannery near a natural waterfall amid 52 acres of rugged wilderness on Prince of Wales Island. They chose this location, on the island's western shore, because the surrounding waters were known for phenomenal fishing and epic salmon runs. The resort, which renovated the historical cannery in 1980, enjoys this abundant fishery and beautiful, forested setting.

It's "King On!" for Ian Miller who lands a beautiful king salmon while fishing in Alaska at Waterfall Resort Alaska.
