About Hydramotion Ltd

Hydramotion Ltd. was founded over 25 years ago and started working with a multi-national producer of premium food additives to resolve their real-time viscosity issues which would enable them to ensure the quality production of their products. The outcome was the XL7 process viscometer which re-defined the standards of on-line viscosity measurement. Since the XL7 range, Hydramotion has expanded, developed and refined their viscometers and now serves thousands of customers in over 80 countries.
