

Real Estate Investing During a Global Pandemic: Informed Insights from Alex Minter of Astute Property Network

On a mission to educate and advise, Astute Property Network helps clients develop an appropriate strategy for investing.

SYDNEY, NEW SOUTH WALES, AUSTRALIA, November 27, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Property advisory and acquisition network Astute Property Network focuses on designing and delivering portfolios which maximise client potential for wealth creation. With a philosophy of 100% client focus, the company's primary concern is to educate and advise by creating tailored investment strategies for their clients.

Company founder and director Alex Minter has been closely watching housing market trends during the course of the COVID-19 pandemic. With that in mind, he feels that educating clients about the current situation is of primary importance.

"There are a lot of misconceptions out there about how the housing market has reacted to the pandemic," says Minter. "Many people are fearful and uncertain about investing, and, as a result, are missing out on some unforeseen opportunities."

Minter has recently written some interesting blog posts that provide informative facts and guidelines for anyone who's been thinking about buying a home or investing in the current climate.

In 'Not All Housing Markets Rise & Fall on the Same Tide,' Minter shows how capital city housing markets have compared to regional housing markets over the last several months. The article provides some surprising statistics along with Minter's suggestions as to where to look for the best possible investment properties.

'Sentiment will win the battle... ..but fundamentals will win the war' answers the question as to what effect all the available grants and current government stimuli will have on the property market. In this short article, Minter shares some compelling facts with regards to the correlation between consumer sentiment and market fundamentals.

"Being well aware and educated about the current trends in the housing market is crucial," Alex concludes. "We have years of expertise and experience as buyers agents, and would be delighted to help in any way we can. Please don't hesitate to contact us."
