

Registration is Now Open for SMi Group's 4th Annual Military Robotics and Autonomous Systems Conference

SMi Reports: Registration and the agenda are now available for the highly anticipated Military Robotics and Autonomous Systems virtual conference next April.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM,
November 30, 2020 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Building on the huge success of its three previous years, Military Robotics and Autonomous Systems will return on 12th and 13th April 2021 as a virtual event to further focus on the UK MoD's 5 priorities in the development of RAS: situational awareness, lethality, manoeuvrability, survivability and sustainability.

The newest additions to next year's agenda include: an emphasis on unmanned combat vehicles, enhanced autonomous capabilities and battlefield manned/unmanned teaming. In addition, there are new speakers from the US, the Netherlands, Israel, Norway, NATO and many more.

The 2021 brochure is now available at <http://www.robotics-autonomous.com/pr1>

As the only international event with a dedicated focus on military land robotics, this unique event will give delegates essential insights into the development and implementation of unmanned and autonomous ground systems from international militaries.
