

Indie Publisher Releases Climate Change Young Adult Book

Indie publisher Isabella Media Inc launches a climate change young adult book on Giving Tuesday announcing donation for each book sold through author site.

NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND, UNITED STATES, December 1, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Climate change is real! Whether you believe it's man made or not is no longer the issue. We must act now to save our planet! That is the message that four young heroines will convey in the newly released book Ecomasters, A Planet in Peril: Book One Pathfinder. While our story is fiction meant for the young adult book market, the plight of our planet is not. That's why we're launching our book for pre-orders on Tuesday, December 1, 2020 in time for Giving Tuesday. We're donating one-dollar from each book sale made through our website www.ecomastersbooks.com to climate change causes.

On a blistering day in the midst of a record-breaking heat wave in New York, deeply held secrets of the past are disclosed to Coral, breaking open the shell of her cloistered upper-class Manhattan reality, to reveal the mysterious truth of her mother Sophia's disappearance so many years ago, dissolving into time as if it were only yesterday. A gift, neatly wrapped, at her doorstep, becomes the first clue in an unfolding breathtaking global adventure transporting Coral to find her new teammates in some of the more remote corners of the world to fulfill her destiny. As 'pathfinder', Coral's quest to find the others will lead her to experience colorful cultural settings, perils, and opportunities for inspiration all over the world.
