I've been impressed by the amount of support services available to me and my clients as well as the tech-forward mentality of the firm.”

James Beglis

“Jim is the perfect addition to our practice. With his stellar reputation as a litigator and as a mediator, we are very fortunate to have him on board,” stated John Whitbeck, Managing Partner, WhitbeckBennett.

Mr. Beglis began his legal career in Loudoun County, where he practiced criminal and traffic defense exclusively. He gained invaluable trial and courtroom experience before leaving to join a small law firm in Fairfax, where he specialized in divorce and family law matters of every variety and handled all the firm's estate planning cases.

A native of Northern Virginia, James is deeply involved in the community. He is a member of the Loudoun County Juvenile and Domestic Relations Bench-Bar Committee and the Family Law and Trust and Estate sections of the Virginia State Bar. He is also active in the adult involuntary commitment hearings in Loudoun County, including hearing cases and regularly training law enforcement officers on the involuntary commitment process. Additionally, James served for several years as a certified Guardian ad litem for children, is a member of the Knights of Columbus charitable organization, and has coached his children's soccer teams for years. James received a J.D. from the George Mason University School of Law and a B.A. from the University of Virginia. James is admitted to the Virginia State Bar and is a Virginia Super Lawyer.

"I've known John since I began practicing law in Leesburg in 2004 and am very excited to join forces with him and the rest of the talented crew at WhitbeckBennett," stated Mr. Beglis. "In the short time that I've been here, I've been impressed by the amount of support services available to me and my clients as well as the tech-forward mentality of the firm."

Mr. Beglis accepts cases throughout Northern Virginia, regularly practicing in Loudoun, Fairfax, Prince William, Arlington, Alexandria, Clarke, and Fauquier Counties.
