

Joe Rogan Teams Up with Kill Cliff to Create the Flaming Joe

Flaming Joe, a CBD Infused Beverage by Kill Cliff, is Totally Lit

ATLANTA, GA, USA, December 4, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kill Cliff, America's undisputed clean energy drink champion, is proud to announce a collaboration with Joe Rogan to create the Flaming Joe. Straight from the mind of Rogan, this incredibly unique, spicy pineapple fusion is the latest edition to the country's best-selling line of CBD beverages.

The Flaming Joe contains 25mg of CBD, derived from 125mg of broad-spectrum hemp, B-vitamins, electrolytes, and plant extracts. As with all Kill Cliff drinks, there is no sugar or artificial ingredients. The flavor is bold and spicy.

Rogan, the world's top podcaster, is a longtime advocate of CBD for mental and physical well-being. It is a regular topic and shared interest with a multitude of celebrity guests, ranging from Mike Tyson and Miley Cyrus to military veterans like Andy Stumpf.

It's amazing how much good you can get out of a 24 kilogram kettlebell and a can of Kill Cliff CBD”

As a Kill Cliff partner and power user, it only made sense to work together to create twelve ounces of liquid magic. As Rogan says, “It's amazing how much good you can get out of a 24-kilogram kettlebell and a can of Kill Cliff CBD.”

“Working with Rogan on this drink was a really cool experience for the entire Kill Cliff team,” says John Timar, president of Kill Cliff. "Our guys, Jerry Barker and Mitch Brown, did a remarkable job nailing the flavor concept and creating an awesome can design worthy of this product."

Since entering the CBD market last year, Kill Cliff has pioneered the industry, gaining massive distribution, accelerating brand engagement and attracting top athletes and high-profile celebrities. In fact, earlier this year, John Brenkus, the six-time Emmy-Award winning creator, host and producer of ESPN Sport Science, joined Kill Cliff as Chief Marketing Officer.

"Today's consumer is rightfully more aware than ever of what they put in their bodies. Kill Cliff is by far the best tasting and healthiest energy drink available," Brenkus concluded. "I'm honored to be part of the clean energy drink company that is literally disrupting the industry."
