

Forensic Pathologist Shares a Glimpse of Examining Death

New book highlights stories above and beyond death

COOKSTOWN, NEW JERSEY, USA,
December 4, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/

-- Objection, He's Still Alive: Memoirs of a Cowboy Coroner gives us a glimpse of how the day-to-day work of a modern medical examiner goes.

William Moore, the focus of the story, is a doctor who examines deaths to help find ways to better protect the living.

From the extremely common cardiovascular death to the fatal tragedies or homicides, readers are given a detailed narration of how their investigative job goes. Like what could possibly interest readers, Moore likes to keep his mind to the unique qualities of different cases.

Author Philip E. Keen, MD, is a forensic pathologist with 44 years of experience working in different agencies and as a chief medical examiner. Dr. Keen has been a chief of pathology at a community hospital and a medical doctor for a medical laboratory. He also led the Arizona Medical Association prior to that, after he served as a chairman for the state medical licensing board.

This is definitely a good read for those who love to read about medical investigative stories. Dr. Keen has poured out to the book all the knowledge he acquired from his stint in the field of medical pathology and hundreds of appearances as an expert witness. Readers of the book liked how detailed the episodes are and believe that those who are interested in science and crime scene investigations would definitely want to read it.

"Each death is unique and if I pay sufficient attention to the unique qualities," one of Moore's lines say. While some days could be mundane for the common eye, these are cases that bear in them a special story that are worth paying attention to. Dr. Keen's expertise captures these accounts perfectly without missing out on the distinctive medical viewpoints for each of them.

About Writers' Branding

Writers' Branding is a full-service self-publishing company that provides aspiring authors exclusive access to publicity and a pool of book evaluators and marketing creatives and bridges them to literary agencies and traditional publishing houses.

Please visit www.writersbranding.com for more information.

Writers' Branding

Writers' Branding

+1 800-608-6550

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Facebook

Twitter

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/532069700>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2020 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.