Pay Per Click Marketing or Pay Per Click Advertising in simple jargon is paid advertising. With the changing nomenclature, it is sometimes referred to as Search Engine Marketing or SEM. PPC marketing is a digital advertising model employed by marketers to drive qualified traffic to a website or a landing page. The advertiser has to pay a fee to the publisher for every click they receive.

As a PPC agency in Florida, Oamii works for all local businesses and across US clients to lower their CPA or Cost Per Acquisition while striving to increase their ROI. In digital marketing, PPC advertising is the most direct and cost-effective manner to draw clients with high purchase intent.

The Way Pay Per Click Advertising Works

Every Florida company can benefit from PPC advertising. A budget is first fixed for advertising on platforms like Facebook, Quora, Google, etc. Whenever you receive hits on these ads, a predetermined amount is paid to the website owner or the advertising platform. The process continues until your entire budget is exhausted. After this, if you still wish to continue advertising, your only option is to reinstate the budget. The variety of ads is not just restricted to clicks. Instead, you also have options like Pay Per View and Pay Per Impression. All of these work on the principle that you pay only when the planned contact happens.

Florida PPC Advertising Options

Paid Search Advertising – Paid search advertising gives a fair chance to every brand and business to compete with other big brands for enticing potential customers on the various search engines.

Display Advertising – It's like a visual merchandising of your brand. A visual makes a more powerful impact. Display advertising allows you to flash or show your business for a relatively less CPC.

Website Retargeting– Those customers who showed interest in your product or service but did not convert are not forgotten. They are the potential clients who need the right motivation to convert. Retargeting gives your business a chance to reconnect with them.

Google Paid Search Marketing – Google is the King of all search engines. Make a statement by appearing on the very top of the Google search results page with strategic, targeted, and clear product or service offerings.

Paid Advertising For Social Media – Build buyer personas to target only those people who meet your criteria. There's no need to waste money on people who don't meet your eligibility criteria. Make social media campaigns that are attractive, encouraging, and tempting to the potential section.

Landing Page Development – Build and create your company's landing pages to precisely endorse your business goals. It will increase your conversions and also generate better-quality leads.
