Virtually Yours Travel Show

The Virtually Yours Travel Show brings together the community of travel lovers and industry professionals in a first-of-its-kind marketplace, to make booking simpler and more secure than ever in our post-Covid world, with 24/7 expert advice and exclusive offers for show attendees.

Travellers who wish to seek advice and book through a travel agent can search and select registered travel agents within the show, who can provide them some peace of mind should travel plans require changing.

While travel suppliers around the world are struggling to survive, especially small hotels and tour operators, etc., the show also features very low exhibitor fees, making the resource affordable, and helping them on their road towards recovery sooner, to provide and service travellers a wider ranges of options.

Bringing a different unique daily travel show schedule to the market, the virtual shows will focus on various international and domestic destinations, as well as popular travel interest niches. Including access to travel industry professionals and expert-led panels, for the first time, travellers will have all the latest travel information they need in one place - so they can plan their next trips on the advice of their very own team of destination and industry experts, and travel agents of their choosing, and always with peace of mind.

With today's ever-changing travel restrictions, it's never been more important to be up to date with the latest travel information, and so the Virtually Yours Travel Show will also feature expert panel sessions for Covid travel restrictions, and health and safety measures, as well as on accommodation and activity travel options for different areas of travel interest types - so whatever your idea is of your dream trip, the show's expert advice will help you plan it.

Not only can travel lovers and travel trade can now pick up free advance registration, but if you register to join for free right now, you'll also be automatically entered into a draw to win various trips - open now at www.virtuallyyourstravel.com for both consumers and travel trade. The vacation package giveaways to all parts of the world are being offered by sponsors and exhibitors for the mid-January launch are worth over £ 10,000.
