

Live Virtual Discussion to Address Future of White House Press Coverage

Markkula Center for Applied Ethics and National Press Club Journalism Institute bring together veteran White House journalists and communications professionals

SANTA CLARA, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, December 10, 2020

/EINPresswire.com/ -- What:

Santa Clara University's Markkula Center for Applied Ethics and the National Press Club Journalism Institute will host a live-streamed discussion: "What's next for White House coverage? Trump, Biden, and the future of US political reporting." As President-Elect Joe Biden prepares to lead a deeply divided country, what can past coverage and recent experiences teach us about envisioning a better future for how journalists cover the president, and how Americans understand the United States?

Who:

Joining us with lessons from their firsthand experiences with the White House press corps are the following:

- Anita Kumar, White House correspondent and associate editor, Politico
- Dee Dee Myers, former White House press secretary
- Bill Plante, CBS News White House correspondent (retired)

Moderator:

- Subbu Vincent, director of journalism and media ethics, Markkula Center for Applied Ethics at Santa Clara University

When:

Thursday, December 18, 1:00 p.m. EST (10:00 a.m. PST)

Where:
