diversity and inclusion which are fundamental components of Clean Air Metal's core values. The Company recognises that full inclusion of diverse individuals is a competitive advantage by bringing a wide range of insights and perspectives to solving problems, involving communities, meeting challenges and forging new paths forward.

In addition to this Policy, the Company has already implemented the following policies that promote and support EDI including our Sustainability Policy, Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, and Ethical Workplace Reporting Policy and Procedures.

Abraham Drost, CEO of Clean Air Metals stated that "Integrating EDI measures into our corporate strategy is at the forefront of the evolution of our Company and we are pleased to now have this formally adopted. At Clean Air Metals the principle of EDI means consciously creating an environment that values, celebrates and respects individuals for their talents, skills and contributions while celebrating our differences".

The Board will proactively monitor and assess the Company's performance in meeting the commitments outlined in this Policy and we will report on our progress on EDI annually.

The formal EDI Policy can be found on the Company's corporate website at www.cleanairmetals.ca.

About Clean Air Metals Inc.

Clean Air Metals' flagship asset is the 100% owned, high grade Thunder Bay North Project, a platinum, palladium, copper, nickel project located near the City of Thunder Bay, Ontario and the Lac des Iles Mine owned by Impala Platinum. The Clean Air Metals project hosts the Current Lake deposit and magma conduit and the Company is actively exploring the Escape Lake deposit, a twin structure to the Current Lake deposit. Executive Chairman Jim Gallagher and CEO Abraham Drost lead an experienced team of explorers, researchers and engineers who are using the Norilsk magma conduit stratigraphic and mineral deposit model to guide ongoing exploration and development studies. As the former CEO of North American Palladium Ltd. which owned the Lac des Iles Mine prior to the sale to Impala Platinum in December 2019, Jim Gallagher and team are credited with the mine turnaround and creation of significant value for shareholders.
