PUNE, MAHARASTRA, INDIA, December 15, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Digital Audio Workstations (DAWs) Market:

Executive Summary

Global Digital Audio Workstations (DAWs) Market is valued approximately USD 2.20 billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 9.20% over the forecast period 2020-2027. Digital Audio Workstations (DAWs) is an electronic network, drafted fundamentally to facilitate editing, recording, and playing back digital audio files. Due to technological advancements, these processes have become smoother than ever. The media and entertainment sectors use a wide variety of active digital audio workstations. Further, an introduction of the VR & AR technology, rise in adoption of the digital and analog hybrid-based audio and demand for cloud-based audio workstations would drive the growth of the market. Also, the key players are focusing on strategies such as product launch, innovation and merger & acquisition to sustain themselves amidst fierce competition. The growth of the market is attributed owing to the growing digitalization of instruments and increased adoption of cloud-based digital audio workstation. As per the American Society for Quality's report of April 2019, 63% of manufacturers consider IoT products will increase profitability over the next five years and will invest USD 267 billion in IoT by 2020. As a result, the adoption of digital audio workstations would increase as it allows third-party developers to add some code. However, availability of free composing software is hampering the growth of the market during the forecast period of 2020-2027.
