"A Conversation with an Angel" is a delightful story of how an ordinary youth of simplistic means was called upon by an angel. In the pages of Cooper's book, readers will see how this angel sent by God is on a mission to mentor the young man and prepare him for his life's work. The narrative takes readers on a fascinating journey that will keep their interest until the end, showing a youth's heartwarming coming of age and inspiring achievements. I hope my book will inspire you and your dreams to never quit until you leave information behind that will benefit people in the future that will give them faith, hope and health.”

Dr. Jan Cooper

"I hope my book will inspire you and your dreams to never quit until you leave information behind that will benefit people in the future that will give them faith, hope and health. The angel will help mentor you on your journey through the different stages of life. God Loves you and has a plan for you." Cooper says.

He encourages his readers to keep on going: "Never ever give up on your dream! Never quit! You are important and the message you want to leave behind will help many overcome where you have been. God put in your heart the desire to read and write something to help you and others heal. Transformation is coming and healing takes time. You are important. God has a plan for you to read A Conversation with an Angel just as He did for me to write it for you. If you do now and spell now backwards you have won! Many Blessings! God Bless!"
