FinalDriveMotors.com is pleased to announce the arrival of their brand-new aftermarket final drive motor - the Bobcat T590 Final Drive Motor.

FinalDriveMotors.com is an online and brick-and-mortar wholesaler of final drive motors. The company is located in Magnolia, Texas, and provides an unprecedented lifetime limited warranty on all products sold.

In the company's most recent news, FinalDriveMotors.com is informing the public about the arrival of one of the industry's most hard-to-find aftermarket motors, the Bobcat T590 Final Drive Motor. The motor has always been difficult for dealers to keep it in stock, due to its increasing demand and popularity, and was released by Bobcat in January of 2013 as part of the M-500 series of compact track loaders (also known as CTL).

"The T590 continues to wow the crowd with its incredible power and torque compared to other previous motors, like the T190," says founder of FinalDriveMotors.com, Austin Davis. "Being one of the most popular compact track loaders to date, the T590 now faces the problem of being out of stock across the country and rebuild prices are sky-high. Customers everywhere have been turning to aftermarket businesses, such as FinalDriveMotors.com, to try and find motors for their machines. And now, with the COVID-19 pandemic causing aftermarket shortages, it has not been getting any easier."

With FinalDriveMotors.com bringing this coveted drive motor into stock, the company is aiming to change this dynamic to help it become one of the easiest motors to find. The company spends years developing their own aftermarket replacement drives that combine both high-quality craftsmanship and ease of use, and consumers can expect the same for the new T590.

“The complete final drive motor both gives the same amount of power, strength, and reliability, as well as fits the same as the original Bobcat motor and bolts right on to the machine hassle-free and does not require a core,” states Davis. “We are offering this brand-new custom made T590 replacement drive in both 12 and 15 bolt patterns to fit perfectly on your machine. These motors offer the same level of power that customers love from Bobcat, for an attractive wholesale price and with the same warranty dealers offer.”
