Hydration & Wellness, a leading provider of IV hydration therapy, today announced that it will be opening a new retail location in Lehi, UT in early January 2020. This new location will provide an array of IV hydration solutions, using a proprietary blend of vitamins, minerals, amino acids, and IV fluids. IV therapy is infused directly into the bloodstream, giving the recipient's cells rapid access to the nutrients required for healing, improved performance, and general well-being.

We are excited to open this first location in the northern half of Utah. Our St. George location has become very popular and is really transforming the lives of our customers in that area.”

“We are excited to open this first location in the northern half of Utah,” said Heidi Neville, owner and operator. “Our St. George location has become very popular and is really transforming the lives of our customers in that area.”

IV hydration therapy offers a host of benefits and is used by many to alleviate symptoms associated with flu, migraines, seasonal allergies, weight gain, muscle pain, dry skin, joint pain, and even premature aging—among a variety of other ailments.

“When vitamins and supplements are taken orally, you may only receive 30 percent of the vitamin's nutritional value. With IV therapy, you receive 100 percent absorption,” said Neville. “In order for nutrients to reach the cell and work effectively, they must be absorbed. Many people suffer from vitamin deficiencies or are unable to absorb nutrients correctly. With IV vitamin therapy, your nutritional balance and health will improve significantly.”

This Lehi store is located at Traverse Mountain and will feature the following:

"As part of our grand opening, we invite you to discover the endless benefits of IV hydration," said Neville. "During the pandemic, we will operate safely and will follow public health guidelines regarding COVID-19.
