

New Single "My Life"

My Life speaks about the current climate of police brutality, racial inequity, and social injustice, giving perspective as black voices from all walks of life.

EINPresswire.com/ -- "MY LIFE" is a collaboration of four artists speaking about the current climate of police brutality, racial inequity, and social injustice. These insightful artists give their perspectives as black voices from all walks of life. One thing we can all agree on is that the backbone of social justice is equality.

UPTOWN ROME is a Black man and father speaking from his perspective. Rapping about how inequality takes many forms and strikes in different aspects including access to education, and employment possibilities. He highlights the bias in the society of how identical crimes are held to a different standard because of the color of his skin.

There is a sense of dichotomy between HYPE, the wise old soul, and HYPE the lyricist. The commonplace observation of police brutality continues to subjugate our people to the point of death. Flashing back demonstrating what we in history have not yet overcome.
