“It is an understatement to say that 2020 has been challenging on multiple fronts, which is what makes the support from the team at Metro Motor that much more appreciated,” said Paul Ashe, director of the National Bell Festival. “When we needed it and, most especially, when the community needed something good to celebrate, Metro Motor made it happen.”

The festival is designed to reignite an appreciation for bell towers as sentinels of neighborhoods across America, to bring the community together around open-to-everyone events and programming, and to raise critical funding for the care and restoration of historic bells.

About National Bell Festival

The National Bell Festival Inc., a registered 501(c)(3) charitable organization, rings in the New Year with an annual celebration in Washington, D.C. As a canopy of sound erupts from bell towers overhead, a city-wide festival of free public performances and experiences in art, culture, and historical interest activities happens below. Nationwide bell ringing contributes to the cacophony, as communities from coast to coast join in the pealing at 2:00pm Eastern. Throughout the year, the National Bell Festival also refurbishes historic bells that have fallen silent and restores them to their former thundering glory. For more information: BellFest.org
