

Lori Hamilton Releases New Logo for Her Company, Earl & Grace Productions

The logo is inspired by the kindness of members of her family

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, December 23, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Lori Hamilton has released a new animated logo for her company, Earl & Grace Productions. The logo was inspired by the kindness and generosity of the couple who adopted Hamilton's father and raised him.

Earl and Grace Kent were farmers in Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin. Earl was a war veteran who served in the military along with his brother. Earl was wounded after helping the allies win the Battle of the Bulge. While still recovering from his injuries, Earl and his wife adopted Hamilton's father, Dr. Kenneth Ender, as a 13-year-old from foster care. Ken went on to put himself through pharmacy school and then medical school. After medical school, he opened a medical practice and hospital in an underserved community that had never had one.

My production company honors all the everyday heroes who do the same and brings their stories to light.”

Lori Hamilton

In the early 1800s, attorneys for the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) took on a case and more accountability of foster parents began. In the early 1900s, social agencies began to pay and supervise foster parents. Many children during WWII were left to foster care and adoption, as was Hamilton's father, whose own father died before he was born.

Hamilton wanted to create something that not only shared the love and kindness of her grandparents but also connected to the many unsung acts of kindness that people perform every day. Lori said, “Earl and Grace spent their lives growing things and helping others, not expecting any great praise for the effort. My production company honors all the everyday heroes who do the same and brings their stories to light.”

The logo is a collaborative project with animator Montana Hall and music producing company, Stephen Arnold Music.
