A golfer needs golf equipment like golf clubs and golf balls to take part in the sport. Since golf bags are very heavy, golfers use caddies to carry their bags, which contain golf equipment (made of heavy metal). Sometimes caddies do not handle the golf bags properly and misplace the equipment in the golf course. Moreover, their services are expensive and turn out to be a huge investment for golfers. Considering these challenges, some of the vendors have come up with innovative products that can replace these caddies.

One driver in the market is premiumization through product innovations. Premiumization through product innovation is driving the global golf push and pull cart market. In the past, golfers had to carry their golf clubs manually in bags or had to use caddies. The golf push cart has replaced caddies. Push carts facilitate mobilization of golf clubs, balls, and other things required in the golf court. Vendors are introducing new technologies in their products to gain market share and increase consumer base. Remote control battery-based carts are recognized as premium carts because of their high cost.
