team here and plan to work with them and bring our shared visions of the future of hospice care to life, a hospice care experience that will evolve and adjust with the times so that it always best meets our community's needs."

"We are thrilled Amy has joined our team" states Debbie Robson, Vice President of Home Health and Hospice, "She shares our philosophy of patient-centered care and has the necessary skills to lead us forward regarding contractual relationships with healthcare plans. The goal is to ensure that patients are empowered to make their own decisions about their hospice care provider, without burdening themselves with considerations about whether or not their services are covered. I have complete confidence in Amy as a strong resource in helping us to meet that goal.”

In this role, Cavlovic will collaborate with the Salus executive leadership team to improve communication and foster relationships throughout the community. She will also participate in hiring, training and mentorship for the hospice marketing team. Further,

Cavlovic will assist in creating materials and messaging that supports the brand’s commitment to providing an ever-evolving hospice care experience that prioritizes comfort and quality of life.
