Album Background

B-Da Sufi calls this new album 'Ethnicity' because in Senegal and Gambia, there are diverse ethnic groups and with each comes its own rhythm and melodies. Sufi's aim with this new album is to bring these colors into one project to show the world the gems that these 2 countries have. Each track on this album tells a different story better life and venture into different ways of achieving it.

Track 2- 'Bess Bu Bess' ft. Leuz Diwane G – Senegal, talks about a new day like every day is a new day with different events and we all go through those days differently and come out with different experiences.

Track 3- 'Self Esteem' ft. Sambou Suso- Gambia , Aroo & P.P.S – Senegal, talks about loving ourselves and the people around us, respecting ourselves and the people we meet in our daily lives activities.

Track 4 – 'Celebrate' ft. Ilam - Senegal/ Canada- talks about celebrating life, the blessings I have in my life, what I'm grateful for and what I believe in.

Track 5- My Journey ft. You Mkj – Senegal, talks about B-Da Sufi's journey in music how he started, what he's done, his experiences and the level he is today.

Track 6- 'Sama Style' feat. Fuk n Kuk – Senegal, talks about our styles. The type of music we do and the reason we chose to do it that way.

Track 7- 'I Am' feat. Barhama – Gambia, talks about the diverse ethics we have in Africa especially in Senegal and The Gambia. We all come from different ethnics, but we're all humans, which makes us one people. I am: Simply means I am you and you are me. We are one.
