

Finding multiple routes to success

CPD encourages a multi-faceted approach to learning, developing educational resources that range from assessment books to learning magazines and curriculums

SINGAPORE, December 27, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In the competitive education scene, many may find it easier and more straightforward to rely on assessment books and guidebooks to hone their examination skills. However, the best way to learn is often varied for different students. Some may find it easier to absorb information via different learning methods, rather than using traditional learning tools.

Education and learning are constantly evolving, and CPD Singapore aims to provide students and educators alike with a multitude of tools to grasp challenging concepts. CPD Singapore is a Singapore-based education consultancy firm which provides educational solutions to its customers, consisting of a network of university professors, former National Institute of Education (NIE) lecturers, and ex-Ministry of Education (MOE) officers.

CPD's assessment books are written by dedicated education professionals who aim to make learning engaging and effective for students of all levels. Aside from assessment book titles, CPD also provides educational magazines, coding resources and even toys to help children develop their curiosity and critical thinking skills.
