We envision a Blockchain-enabled Logistics Marketplace Ecosystem to solve the above pain-points where the marketplace is a unified platform to allow better accountability between users and stakeholders. Built on Blockchain, the Ecosystem marries the best of Marketplace with Blockchain Technology quipped Minsoo-Kaycee Kim - CEO, WTIA

WTIA has strategically chosen the Logistics industry for its pioneering project with the launch of (WLOG) to not just enable partners and industry to benefit from block-chain technology but also to have their own built-in digital currency to benefit all stakeholders involved.

As of 2017, the logistics industry was valued at a staggering $8.1 trillion; it's projected to nearly double that valuation by 2023.

Although the payouts can be lucrative, shipping companies and retailers respectively are losing out on a significant percentage of the profits due to inefficient age-old practices, unnecessary middlemen costs, untraceable theft, cyber attacks and food spoilage to highlight a few. Mis-labeled, mis-shipped and stolen cargo alone accounts for at least $50 billion in losses annually.
