

TRUiC announces $5000 scholarship to help young entrepreneurs

TRUiC's new scholarship program will award $5000 to any young entrepreneur studying a degree in Business or Entrepreneurship.

ANN ARBOR , MICHIGAN , UNITED STATES, January 4, 2021
/EINPresswire.com/ -- TRUiC (The Really Useful Information Company) recently announced their new Young Entrepreneurship Scholarship program, which honors the growth and progress of aspiring entrepreneurs studying higher education in Business. Applications are around the corner and TRUiC is excited to open application doors, which start January 25 until March 1.

The scholarship program will dedicate a generous investment of $5000 to the scholarship program, which will be available for the academic year of 2021 to 2022. The subject area is specifically focused on a higher education in Business and Entrepreneurship, covering some of the following eligible major subjects: Accounting, Business Administration, Finance, International Business, Management, Marketing, and more.

Applicants will need to ensure they are eligible before applying for TRUiC's scholarship program, which involves various criteria, namely, being a high school senior, graduate, or current college undergraduate. Additionally, applicants need to plan to enroll as a full time (two-or-four-year) undergraduate at an accredited college, university, or vocational-technical school for the full academic year of 2021 to 2022.

TRUiC's goal is to share information and lessons learned from their experiences in building a business. Educating and assisting thousands of business owners every month, their platform shares free business resources and review guides of various service providers to assist business owners in choosing the right option for their business.

Some of TRUiC's resources and tools include finding the right business idea, creating a business plan, how to form various types of businesses like LLCs, Corporations, Partnerships, or Sole Proprietorships, other tools includes logo makers, a business name generator, operating agreement tool, and more.
