

Zanilonia Urges All To Find 'Common Ground' With New Release

Song lyrics emphasize unity

BALTIMORE, MD, USA, January 12, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Eclectic musical project, Zanilonia, is gearing up to release an inspirational new song in the New Year. Entitled 'Common Ground,' founder David Zee says the "retro feel-good" track offers a message of reconciliation after the turbulent and divisive year that was 2020.

David explained the inspiration behind "Common Ground":

"With the world facing so many divisive challenges throughout 2020, I felt it was time for a song to promote our shared experiences and humanity as a way of healing differences. Not a new idea, but one that could use revisiting as we enter 2021, hopeful that this year will be better for all."

Contributing additional vocals to the project is Maryland singer-songwriter, Anissa, who added:

"Social media now plays a huge role in sharing and promoting musical ideas, but, currently, instead of bringing people together, it seems to be driving them apart. Many are using the once-hopeful technology in a negative way to vent their frustrations. Now seems like a good time to promote a message of unity."

'Common Ground' previews are available to the public now on YouTube and SoundCloud. The song will be in full release on Jan. 25, 2021 and rolled out across popular online stores and platforms, including Spotify and Apple Music.
