

Wade Architectural Systems Announces New Strategic Partner

HUMBLE, TX, UNITED STATES, January 14, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Wade

Architectural Systems (WAS) and StoVentec (Sto) are pleased to announce a strategic partnership combining Sto's advanced building technology solutions with WAS's proven strategic business services in architectural solutions

Partnering with StoVentec to deliver innovative and conscience solutions for our clients will allow us to stay at the forefront of the competition in the architectural and construction industry"

Peter Parnham

New to the US, StoVentec is one of the biggest producers of Rainscreen wall systems that utilize glass as cladding. Their rainscreen systems allow architects to freely mix and match multiple rainscreen cladding materials, textures, shapes, and colors to create a truly original facade.

With StoVentec systems, you have options for luminous back-painted glass cladding, including custom full-color HD digitally printed and silk-screened glass for a truly one-of-a-kind building facade.

"Partnering with StoVentec to deliver innovative and conscience solutions for our clients will allow us to stay at the forefront of the competition in the architectural and construction industry." said Peter Parnham, VP of WAS. "Wade Architectural Systems is proud to partner with a company that builds with conscience to make sustainable buildings while improving aesthetic value. "
