

Use Of Artificial Intelligence For Recruitment Purposes Is Trending In The Employment Services Industry

The Business Research Company's Employment Services Global Market Report 2021: COVID-19 Impact and Recovery to 2030

LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, January 12, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New year, new updates! Our reports have been revised for market size, forecasts, and strategies to take on 2021 after the COVID-19 impact: <https://www.thebusinessresearchcompany.com/global-market-reports>

Staffing industry analysis shows executive search services companies and recruitment agencies are increasingly relying on artificial intelligence to simplify recruitment processes. The recruitment process involves screening of profiles from a large applicant pool, which is time consuming. Artificial intelligence can automate this process for effective screening and assessment of candidates. Additionally, artificial intelligence powered chat bots are being used for initial communication with job applicants and scheduling interviews as staffing industry trends. For instance, the ARYA platform by Leoforce uses artificial intelligence to analyze profiles, resumes and information on the web to screen job applicants. Olivia, a chat bot communicates with candidates through mobile platforms or social channels to schedule interviews.

The global employment services market is expected to grow from $978.72 billion in 2020 to $1193.68 billion in 2021 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 22%.
