Political Organizations, Unions And Associations
Global Market Report 2021: COVID-19 Impact And Recovery To 2030

Social media is being increasingly adopted by political organizations, unions and associations. Social media offers an instant way to measure the strength and influence of a political unit or a union by the number of followers in various social media such as Twitter, Facebook etc. Several large and small political organizations, unions and associations are increasingly adopting social media to instantly update their followers about issues and news and also take inputs from members. Several individuals are depending on social media for updates from political organizations, associations and individuals.

The global political organizations, unions and associations market is expected to grow from $331.57 billion in 2020 to $345.95 billion in 2021 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.3%. The growth is mainly due to the companies rearranging their operations and recovering from the COVID-19 impact, which had earlier led to restrictive containment measures involving social distancing, remote working, and the closure of commercial activities that resulted in operational challenges. The political organizations market size is expected to reach $432.23 billion in 2025 at a CAGR of 6%.

North America was the largest region in the public serving organizations market, accounting for 34% of the market in 2020. Asia Pacific was the second largest region, accounting for 32% of the global market. Africa was the smallest region in the global unions market.
