Free Strapless N95 Respirator for Professionals

SEA GIRT, NJ, UNITED STATES, January 22, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Global Safety First (GSF) is giving away free samples of certified N95 ReadMask respirators to industrial hygienists and fit test professionals.

"I am making this offer because I want to introduce industrial hygienists and fit test professionals to the ReadMask," said GSF President John Schwind, co-inventor of the ReadMask. "It is the most innovative respirator in decades. It is so unique, you have to try it to appreciate it."

When asked how he could give away free samples when most manufacturers are out of stock and raising prices, Schwind said, "We had some surplus material from our Dept. of Defense production run, and I wanted to share it with those who need it."

If you are a professional hygienist or make decisions about respirators for your organization, or if you conduct fit tests, visit ReadMask at <https://readimask.com/industrial-hygienist/> to obtain your free samples. There is no obligation for the samples, no credit card required, and the shipping is free. We suggest ordering your free samples before we exhaust our supply.

Satisfied clients of ReadMask include the Department of Justice, Avery Denison Medical, Hackensack Meridian Health, Boston Medical, Morgan Stanley, Deutsche Bank and the U.S. Coast Guard.

The ReadMask, manufactured in the United States, comes with a hypoallergenic medical adhesive that seals to the face to prevent air leaks and better protect the wearer. That means there are no straps and no nose clip so that it won't fog glasses. It's also cooler than traditional
