

Updated Mobile App for Nastel XRay Delivers APM Insights, Analytics for IBM MQ, Kafka Shops

---

PLAINVIEW, NY, USA, February 1, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nastel Technologies, a premier global provider of AIOps solutions covering end-to-end Transaction Tracking and Application Performance Management (APM) for mission-critical applications in mixed cloud environments, has announced an updated, new release for their Nastel XRay mobile app for iOS and Android mobile devices.

Nastel XRay, the analytics platform used by enterprises of all sizes to visualize, analyze, and monitor entire end-to-end application stacks, uniquely provides the deepest understanding of messaging middleware configuration information and the contents of messages. The free XRay app now allows your data to be presented in even more ways on your mobile devices!

What's new for this release?

Added chart and table Viewlets, including:

- Bar chart
- Column chart
- Line chart
- Area chart
- Stack chart
- Pie chart
- Histogram

There are now added options to hide an empty dashboard, to use an auto refresh option in the dashboard view, and also updated date filters and menus in the dashboard and settings view.

If you need to view critical real-time and historical analytics on your business or technical systems wherever (and whenever) you are, then using this app will make your life much easier.

Existing XRay customers can find information on how to obtain or upgrade your iOS or Android app here: Nastel XRay iOS and Android App Setup.
