

Nolij to Transform the Future of Commercial Healthcare Technology

Nolij Consulting, a leader in federal healthcare IT, launched its new commercial practice to modernize for-profit hospitals, clinics and healthcare providers.

VIENNA, VIRGINIA, USA, January 27, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nolij Consulting LLC, a leader in federal healthcare IT, launched its new commercial practice to modernize for-profit hospitals, clinics and healthcare providers with its deep expertise and game-changing emerging technologies. Motivated by increased use of robotic process automation (RPA), artificial intelligence and relentless cybersecurity threats against healthcare facilities, Nolij will leverage its pioneering solutions in digital healthcare modernization to transform the commercial market.

Launching a commercial healthcare practice presents vast opportunities to leverage Nolij's deep and rich experience, gained over the last 8+ years, working in the federal health care system.”

Ashley Mehta, President & CEO Nolij Consulting LLC

Nolij is confident it will revolutionize for-profit healthcare providers' data security protocols to match those it designed for the military health system (MHS) and field hospitals in the battlefield. Nolij will also bring its innovative RPA approach to relieving bottlenecks such as scheduling, billing, and digitizing patient files to ensure longitudinal care.

“Launching a commercial healthcare practice will enable Nolij to bring next-generation technologies to the commercial market”, said Ashley Mehta, Chairwoman,

President & CEO, Nolij Consulting. “ It presents vast opportunities to leverage Nolij's deep and rich experience, gained over the last 8+ years, working in the federal health care system.”

The healthcare IT market is projected to reach $390.7 billion by 2024 at a CAGR of 15.8%, according to MarketandMarkets. The growing volume of patient data, an increase in technological innovations, and demand for quick and efficient healthcare processes and systems are driving the demand for healthcare IT solutions. Nolij will capitalize on this market opportunity to bring digital transformation-in-a-box to address challenges posed by outdated legacy platforms, cost and complexity of new technologies, and cybersecurity.
