/EINPresswire.com/ -- Crown Uniform and Linen, serving the New England region from Massachusetts to Connecticut, Rhode Island to Maine and beyond with professional linen, uniform, and mat services at <https://crownuniform.com/>, is proud to announce a timely new post. The new post focuses on Rhode Island businesses that may be looking for a commercial mat service.

"We see small businesses in Providence and all of Rhode Island struggling to open up responsibly as pandemic restrictions lift. Interested persons can review the updated informational page at <https://crownuniform.com/mats-mops-and-towels/>. The page explains the benefits of using a commercial mat rental service, not just in Providence but throughout New England. Businesses in cities such as Boston, Nashua, and Portland can benefit from "outsourcing" this often-overlooked service need.

As New England businesses struggle to stay open safely this winter, owners might review their financial obligations for various key services. Specific sanitary guidelines for floor and entrance mats could raise concerns for Rhode Island business owners on a tight budget. Buying and cleaning floor mats could be cost prohibitive to small businesses like nail salons, restaurants, and commercial kitchens. A commercial mat rental service could help.

MAT RENTAL SERVICES HELP LOCAL BUSINESSES STAY SAFE

Rhode Island hair salons, restaurants and hotels may be preparing to reopen as Covid-19 restrictions loosen. An increase in foot traffic may prompt small business owners to reevaluate customer safety across a range of issues, including the most basic: floor mats. Good-looking, customized floor mats make a valuable first impression on customers — and reduce the risk of slips and falls, especially in winter. Using a commercial floor mat service instead of purchasing mats could help businesses reduce costs during tough economic times. For these reasons, Crown Uniform and Linen announces a page update for mat rental service in Providence, RI. New England businesses such as hair salons, restaurants and commercial kitchens can rent floor mats for their establishments.
