Brittany is a contributing member to several corporate housing and relocation organizations including the Corporate Housing Providers Association (CHPA), the Corporate Relocation Council of Chicago (CRC), and the Wisconsin Employee Relocation Council (WiERC). Before joining Suite Home, Herrington worked for V-Suites temporary housing, which was recently acquired. She moved to Chicago from Michigan in January to join the Suite Home team.

"We are excited to have Brittany join our team. We regularly collaborated with her former employer to provide housing solutions for our clientele, and feel that her transition into our team will be a seamless one," said Suite Home Owner Jennifer Breen. "She is laser focused on her clients, and we are thrilled to have such a positive addition to Suite Home."

“Brittany’s hire signals our continued commitment to a positive rebound in the hospitality industry,” Breen said. “We need a robust team to continue to provide the highest level of service our clients have come to expect.”

Suite Home is headquartered in downtown Chicago, and provides temporary housing solutions globally for their corporate clientele. The company has weathered a downturn in the hospitality industry during this past year, and is looking forward to a return to steady business travel in 2021.

“Taking into account company closures and mergers and acquisitions, the supply of inventory is down substantially for the busiest time of the year and the faucet is about to turn back on for company temporary living requests,” said Suite Home Director of Business Development Matthew Tobel, CCHP. “It only makes sense to bring on someone as talented as Brittany to navigate the changing waters of providers, demand, and managed accommodation experiences.

Tobel continued, “I have worked with Brittany in the past as my Inside Sales Manager for years at V-Suites and couldn’t think of anyone better to join our team when tasked to build out Suite Home’s growing sales department.”

Herrington commented, “I am incredibly excited to be joining a team that truly feels like home. With their customer centric model, attention to detail with every client, and their innovative approach to corporate housing, I knew there was limitless opportunity with our joint momentum.”

Suite Home works with clients with temporary housing needs across all industries. The company sees housing needs stemming from relocation, long-term project work, intern programs, business travel, entertainment, insurance claims, in addition to extended vacation stays. The firm offers an inclusive corporate housing solution of fully furnished apartments with all the utilities, housekeeping and concierge services included.

What has set Suite Home apart in the industry is their local presence and commitment to building long-term partnerships. While what they offer is “short-term” solutions, with lease terms starting at only 30 days, their real value is being a true consultative partner from the very beginning of the conversation, through the term of the project.
