

New Book "My Mom Is a Superhero" Brings Mothers and Daughters Together

Offers Valuable Perspective on Moms' Contributions to the Family

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., UNITED STATES, February 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, publishing company Mommy and Me Swag announced the release of its new book, My Mom is a Superhero, by Porscha Chambers, a positive and sincere author who offers her perspective on family and a joyful life. Chambers' writing is a lovely testament to the love between mothers and daughters. She dedicates herself to being an example of leadership and understanding, inspiring her mother-daughter readers. The premise of My Mom Is a Superhero shines a light on appreciating all that a mom does for her family, through the eyes of her daughter.

Mothers are often referred to as superheroes, tasked with so many responsibilities in order to make sure everyone in the household is happy and healthy. In her book, Chambers captures the essence of a busy day. In her view, moms are "Superheroes" for balancing children and family members—successfully getting to school and work on time, as well as feeding and keeping the family healthy.

"A mom is a superhero without the cape, who usually does not hear thank you and, as superhero, we don't expect thanks," said Chambers. "The perspective of the little girl in my book is to give children an understanding that Mom truly is exceptional. My Mom is a Superhero is my tribute to Moms everywhere, written as a children's book to give them appreciation for the parent who loves and takes care of them. Mothers love their daughters unconditionally and will do whatever they can to ensure love and happiness. I hope you'll agree that My Mom is a Superhero is a special book, one that will be a valuable part of your family's life. I consider myself a "mompreneur" and highly recommend pursuing your interests."
