or group collaboration, monitor the class attention level and assist students in real-time using AI.

Radix TeacherView is allowing teachers to focus on teaching, streamline the learning experience and keep their finger on the classroom pulse.

With the addition of Android support for students, RADIX TeacherView can cater to a much larger audience of learners also using Android-based devices such as smartphones and tablets.

Radix offers 30 days free trial with full functionality and no cap on the number of students.

After, you may choose from a flexible and fair business model paying either per student, teacher, or school site license.

Complimentary online training is offered 4 times a week or upon request.

We welcome all customers looking to facilitate remote or hybrid learning.
