Inflatable advertising is particularly useful for grand openings, special events and milestone promotions. Making an event visible from miles around with some high flying big round, helium balloons will attract target customers.

Their advertising flags are made of a durable, washable polyester. The digitally printed material is fade-resistant, so even the harsh summer sun won't fade them. With professionally sewn seams and a sturdy top pocket, flags offer a vivid and colorful impact throughout an entire promotion.

Snap's 24ft advertising balloons are highly visible, hugely impactful and have a high impression rate that radio, television and other media can't come close to. With consumers driving millions of miles every year, the advertising balloon delivers a marketing message at the right time in the right place and at any time of day or night, seven days a week.

"Our external advertising really does make businesses stand out from all others on the street," said a company official. "It not only builds visibility, but strengthens a brand's recognition in the eyes of the customer."

The company is a one-stop hub of out-of-the-box solutions as it offers advice on the best advertising approaches. Snap's professional team has the experience and knowledge to offer highly customized inflatable and custom banners to match a company's brand colors.

Banners, signs and other graphics are printed on high-quality material, so they resist fading and harsh weather elements. The company also installs and maintains the balloons, and handles any repair work for their rentals.
